Robin Housman

Z

PRODUCER, ENGINEER, MIXER, PROGRAMMER

Robin, an innovative, successful and hugely creative producer, uses his individualistic and youthful talent in the relentless pursuit of cutting edge fresh new bands and artists. Whilst focus on the performance of the artist is central to his approach, his fusion of influences and production techniques of dance/ hip-hop and guitar based music yields an exciting direction to modern production. This, along with his social and infectious personality makes him a great person to work with.

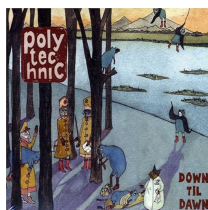

Robin graduated as an audio engineer with distinction from the highly regarded Manchester School of Sound Recording. As a student, he experimented with electronic music writing hip-hop beats, composing electronic music and performing as a scratch D.J. This progressed to writing music for both film and television, at the same time working alongside bands and artists – his ultimate direction.

Robin's early career involved the initial development of a wide range of Manchester and other northern bands and artists including: Polytechnic, The Courteeners, Keith, Liam Frost and The Slowdown Family, Kathryn Edwards, The NightJars, The Beep Seals and The Harrison's.

Recently Robin has engineered on Polytechnic's (BMG) debut album 'Down 'till Dawn' (mixed by Ken Nelson). He recently produced and composed releases for various artists including Liam Frost and The Slowdown Family (La Volta Records), Kathryn Edwards (Polydor/ Fiction), The Harrison's (Sony/ Melodic Records) as well as recording, producing and mixing Shady Bard's exciting debut 'From the Ground Up' (Static Caravan/ Sony Columbia).

Robin produced, mixed and co-wrote singles "Silent Hotels," and "Lightbulbs," for The Answering Machine (Regal Recordings). He has recently produced and mixed the debut album for hotly tipped artist Magic Arm and is currently working with exciting new act Team Turnip.
